

Welcome to BlueWave Dentistry. We have been dedicated to improving the health and lives of our patients since 2005. We would like to thank you for choosing our practice. We are excited to partner with you on your journey towards better health. Our mission is simple; to help you improve your health and life. As you will soon see, our practice is unique. We are a “health centered” practice that focuses on each patient’s individual wants and needs. We believe the health of the mouth is directly linked to the health of your body and vice versa.

Current Western trends in medicine and dentistry focus on treating only the symptoms associated with disease. At BlueWave Dentistry we focus on discovering the root cause of the disease in your mouth, if any, and help you learn how to treat it, prevent it from further progression, and prevent any new disease processes from starting. We also help you learn how to maintain ideal oral health through proper oral hygiene techniques and nutritional counseling. Our hope is for you to improve not only your oral health, but your overall health while under our care.

Ideal oral health and wellness requires total commitment from you and your dental team. We can help give you the tools and set you up for health, but ultimately, the degree to which your mouth is healthy will directly depend on how you take care of it and the lifestyle choices you make over the long run. We will be committed to coaching you towards better health for as long as you are under our care.

Again, thank you for choosing BlueWave Dentistry. We look forward to meeting you and helping you along the way towards better health.

Sincerely,

John J. Sweeney DDS, PA

Chad Biggerstaff DDS, PharmD
